THE TRIBUNE.
DANVILLE:
FRIDAY, AUGUST 6, 1852.

EDITIONS.

The Presidential election will take place on the second day of November, being the first Tuesday in the month.
Kentucky, Tennessee, and Maryland hold no general election for State officers this year. The first elections of any importance will be in Missouri and Iowa, the first Monday in August, and North Carolina the first Thursday. In Iowa members of Congress and several State officers, will be elected, and in Missouri, members of Congress, and a Governor. The next and only important elections before the Presidential election,
will be Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, which will take place on the 12th of October.

Henry Clay made his first and last speech at the bar, in the Clarke Circuit Court—the lapse of more than half a century between them.

The State tax in Indiana, for this year, will be twenty cents on each hundred dollars worth of property. There is also a State poll tax of fifty cents.

Cassius M. Clay has published a card in the National Era, declining the nomination of Vice President by the Free-soil party.

Dr. Wm. C. Lane, of St. Louis, has been appointed Governor of New Mexico, in the place of Gov. Cathlamet, deceased. It is said to be excellent appointment.

We learn from the Baltimore Sun, that the Rev. Sumner Robinson, of Franklin, has accepted a call to a church in that city, and will enter upon its duties in September next.

The Whig and Democratic candidates for Presidential Electors, are taking the stump, throughout our State, which gives promise of a vigorous and energetic campaign.

It is the intention of Louis Napoleon's government to return to the principle that a bare majority of a jury (seven votes) shall suffice to convict.

A diamond weighing 400 carats has been given to the East India Company, by the Nizam of Hyderabad, in part payment of a debt. It is nearly twice as large as the Koh-i-noor.

Total Demerit.—We learn that a difficulty occurred at Keaysburg, Ky., on Monday last between Dr. Henry Sage, and his brother-in-law Mr. J. Grimes in which Sage shot Grimes, who died in a short time.

Thomas Shannon and Andrew J.
Phillips, indicted before the Harrison Circuit Court for the murder of John De-veine, in Cynthiana, several weeks ago, were tried separately last week. The former was found guilty, and sentenced to be hung on the 25th of next month.
The jury failed to make a verdict in regard to the latter, and were discharged, and the prisoner sent back to jail, to await his trial at the next term of Court.

A Man is Known by his Friends.—So says the Southern Democratic Journal, and hence they own Gen. Scott can't be trusted by the South. But a Washington correspondent of the New York Times states that Hon. John P. Hale, to whom the nomination of the Pittsburg (Free Soil) Convention will first be offered, will probably decline, among other reasons, "on account of his friendly relations with Gen. Pierce." Hark, the rebel chief of Rhode Island, is also known to be an intimidate friend of Pierce, that gentleman having called upon Dorr, as soon as he arrived in Rhode Island. Does this prove that Hale is to be Secretary of State and Dorr Secretary of War?

The Wings of Vermont.—A large gathering of Whigs took place at Barlington (Vt.) on Monday evening of last week. Addresses were made by Chas. F.
Davy, and Mr. Weston, of Burlington, Nathaniel Ellmaker, of Pennsylvania, H. J. Raymond, of N. Y., and others.
Speaking of the meeting, the Free Press remarks:

"The Wings of Vermont are just as true and certain for the Whig cause now as when the morning drum-beat called them to the support of the honest and pure-hearted Harrison. They cannot be bought by any form or combination of Loco-focoism nor by side-issues, or im-material issues, or false issues."

Every animal in creation, as it grows older, grows graver, except an old maid, and she grows frisky—she does.—(Ezokiel.

Scott's Thoroughness of Discipline.—
The Buffalo Express tells the following anecdote of Gen. Scott's rigid observance of military courtesies while in the Camp of Instruction in Buffalo. He saw a captain pass the sentinel on his post.
The soldier saluted him by carrying his arms, making his musket ring again with the action. The captain passed him without acknowledging his salute. Scott sent an aide-de-camp to him to say that he must repress the sentinel within twenty minutes, and repair his fault, or stand a trial before a court-martial.

The Pierce papers are rejoicing over the secession of Toombs and Stevens, members of Congress, and a Governor. The next and only important
elections before the Presidential election,
will be Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana,
which will take place on the 12th of October.

"We beg of them not to do it. Do any thing else you please, make any other shape but that, and we will bear it as well as we can; but, gentlemen, for mercy's sake, please do not join the Democratic party."

Political Clippings.
S. S. S. is a dead letter in this country.

(Cincinnati Ohio) Democrat.
Like other "dead letters," he will be sent straight to Washington.—Raleigh Register.

Some of the Democratic papers are actually enough to extol Gen. Pierce's speeches. We have read some of them, and our opinion is that a man who makes such speeches ought to "have a room to himself."

The Washington Union says that "enthusiasm for Pierce and King is abroad." All the enthusiasm for the Democratic ticket must certainly be "abroad." There's nothing of the sort in this country.—Jour.

After Gen. Scott's glorious victories in Mexico, Mr. Polk had him arrested. At that time a Democratic President could very easily arrest his person, but the whole Democratic party cannot arrest his popularity.

A Whig paper calls Frank Pierce
"Juniper Tanager." He may be "Juniper Tanager," but he will never be Juniper Pavus. He may thunder, but he will never reign.—Jour.

Frank Pierce is daily gaining strength. Columbia Democrat.

A General, who, in Mexico, was so weak as to faint as often as he was going into battle, must "daily gain strength" for a long time before the people will think him strong enough for any purpose of theirs.—Jour.

The London Times, the organ of the British Government, is particularly pleased with the nomination of Gen.
Pierce. He congratulates its readers upon the fact that he is "a decided champion of free trade." Now the question for the people of the United States to decide is whether they shall elect a man to please Great Britain and promote her interest or a man to please themselves and promote their own interest.—Jour.

The Democrat, after giving what it calls intelligence from Florida, exclaims:
"Thus it, from every quarter, the clearing news of promised truth is borne upon every breeze."

The breezes wait to the Whigs the clearing news of promised truth is borne
upon every breeze.

The Democratic editor of the Baltimore Sun, among all his efforts at making political capital out of the Mexican war for Gen. Pierce have proved abortive, is now trying to make it out of the last war with Great Britain. He enumerates with solemn emphasis that Pierce has a sister who married a man who was wounded at Lunenburg's Landing!

We have no doubt, that, upon the strength of this fact, Gen. Pierce will hereafter contest with Gen. Scott the claim to the honor of being "the hero of Lunenburg's Landing!"—Journal.

A friend of ours was at the Barnum House in Cincinnati, and sitting in the reading-room, he overheard a Democrat entertaining two or three other Democrats with an article in the Cincinnati Enquirer upon what the editor called Gen. Scott's quarrels with his brother officers. "This," said the democrat, "clearly proves that Gen. Scott is a quarreling man." "They can prove more upon him than that," said our friends, interrupting the conversation. "Ah," said the democrat, bending forward with a look of anxious expectation, "what can they prove?" "Why," said our friend (who will use a naughty word sometimes) "they can easily prove not only that he is a quarreling man but that he is a h—ll of a fighting man." The democrat was silent for the time, but was overheard muttering deep curses shortly afterwards.

It should be remembered that Scott received his first commission from Jefferson; was subsequently promoted and finally offered the post of Secretary of War by Madison; enjoyed the confidence of Adams; was commissioned to ally the storm of Nullification by Jackson; and was deputed by Van Buren to quell the tempest on our Canadian frontier, and to avert the threatened war on our North-Eastern border. The most important services which Gen. Scott has rendered his country have not been rendered on the battle field.

General Pillow says that General Pierce, after falling from his horse at Contreras, lay all night among the sharp-pointed rocks of lava. Judge Douglas says that these rocks of lava were "red-hot." Now we demand of the Colonels of the Times, who tell us that they were eye-witnesses of Gen. P.'s misfortune, why they didn't take him to comfortable quarters instead of permitting him to lie all night upon the red-hot rocks. There are four of them, and surely they might, by each taking a leg or an arm, have got him off the red-hot rocks. There would have been no danger of their burning their feet, as we understand they are always provided with salamander-skin boots, and that is what they are.

You should be ashamed of yourselves, Colonels, that have neglected your future names. Brooding all day under a hot sun is nothing at all to brooding all night upon burning lava. The Colonel (N. H.) Patriot says that General Pierce is "a kind-hearted, peaceable, ripe—who never got into a broil in his life," but if he didn't get into a broil upon this occasion, there's no truth in the "little gentle."

The choicest argument used by the Southern Democrats against Gen.
Scott is that he is supported by Mr.
Seward, of New York. They argue, quite innocently, as follows: Seward supports Scott, and therefore, if Scott should be elected, Seward will control all the appointments under the Scott Administration.
What better is that logic than this? Martin Van Buren supports Pierce and, therefore, if Pierce should be elected, Van Buren will control all the appointments under the Pierce Administration.

"Twenty-five dollars, perhaps," replied the landlord.

"Sure an' ye'll make better business of it than myself, if ye get that."

"Yes, I guess so," said the landlord.
Mike relapsed into silence, and after an hour's ride they halted in front of a stable, and the landlord sung out to the proprietor:

"Here's the fellow that stole your horse and wagon."

This brought out the stable keeper and his ostlers, and the former having thrown Mike's head back so as to get a fair view of his face, said:

"Isn't that the man?"

"An' didn't I tell ye so?" said Mike.
"That is my self that's obliged to ye for takin' me here, an' savin' me trouble of a weary journey on foot. An' now," turning to the stable keeper, if ye'll tell me the way to the railroad, it's Mike Mahoney that'll quick be out of a country where honest men are uncivilly treated."

The road was pointed out to him and he trudged off at a rapid pace, while the landlord, cheerfully turning his team round, departed and a shout of laughter, inwardly repressed never to arrest a man for horse stealing again.

THREE SEVENTEENS.
We heard a good story the other day of an eminent jockey (now dead) who was the father of a great brood of fast boys.
The old gentleman was rather a strict governor, though when outside he would occasionally "let up," drink, carouse, and go in for chances. The boys knew this—boys generally do—and while they respected the governor on account of his age, they positively objected to his propensities for humbug. One Sunday the governor was reading the Bible, when Ez, the oldest boy procured a set of dice, and having sponged all the low sides, so that he could not get less than fifteen, commenced throwing them on a chair.

The governor came to a hard word, looked up and saw the game. Then came the following conversation: Governor.—Ez, you boy—Ezeriah! Do you know what day it is?

Ez.—Yes—fifteen—Sunday. Seventeen.

Governor.—Well, then, you go put them things away—throw them in the stove—no—put them on the shelf. Get a book, sit down and read.

Ez put the bones in his pocket, and got a book; but some how or other came the dice again.

Ez.—Seventeen! Seventeen! Seventeen!!!

Governor.—(Springing from his chair and allowing the Bible to drop on the floor.) What! got three seventeens?— Good gracious! them would have won the hoss last night!

The American Language.—An Englishman, perusing an American newspaper, exclaimed impatiently on noticing something of Webster's orthographical improvements—
"These people ought to be denied the use of the English language if they can't treat it better."

"English language?" echoed a Van-kee, without removing the cigar from between his teeth, "guess you're mistaken hoss; it's the American language."

"American?" repeated the wondering Englishman.

"Guess it's that!" said Jonathan, coolly
"we've annexed it."

The man who thinks he can talk a girl out of love, has gone West to dam the Mississippi with a chip. We shall issue an extra informing our readers of his success.

A fellow having a spite at a sausage maker, rushed in his shop when crowded with customers, threw a large dead cat, on the counter, and said, "That makes nineteen—we'll scotch when you are not busy," and made his exit.

"An' what does that say, euro?"

"That you stole a horse and wagon."
"Is it me you mean?"
"Certainly."
"Take me out of this, by the blessed St. Patrick," and Mike was fast making tracks for the door, when the landlord stopped before him.

"No you don't," said he, taking Mike by the collar.

Mike began to shed tears, and tried to soften the heart of the landlord.

"Be sure you wouldn't be the means of puttin' a poor fellow to prison. Let me go now, and I'll never darken the doors of your house again, as sure as my name's—"

"What?" asked the landlord.

"An' what was the name ye read on the paper?"

"It's no water—I'm sure he's the chap," said the landlord; don't you think of addressin' yourself to the crowd, who had gathered in the bar-room?

"Yes," was the response.

In less than half an hour the landlord's team was at the door, and Mike was ordered to get aboard.

"Sure you'll give me a drop of the crathur," said Mike, "before ye take me into the cold weather."

"Yes," said the landlord, ordering his boy to set out the decanter.

"Here's to the health of ye," said Mike
"an' may the blessed Virgin purrify ye, and save ye from ever bein' in my situation!"

The liquor was drunk, and Mike and the landlord started off for the town from which the horse had been stolen.

During the first part of the journey, Mike was exceedingly taciturn, and the landlord was not disposed to disturb his meditations. They had proceeded some half dozen miles, when Mike asked:

"An' what will be got for this job, mister?"

"Sure an' ye'll make better business of
it than myself, if ye get that."

"Yes, I guess so," said the landlord.
Mike relapsed into silence, and after an hour's ride they halted in front of a stable, and the landlord sung out to the
proprietor:

A sudden gust of wind took a parcel from the hand of its owner, and a lively fisherman, dropping his net of bricks, caught the parcel. "Faith ma'am," said he, "If you were as strong as your are handsome, it would not have got away from you." "Which shall I thank you for first—the service or the compliment?" asked the lady, smiling. "Both ma'am," said Pat, again touching the place where once stood the brim of what was once a heaver, "that look of your beautiful eye has kept me for both."

To attempt to enchain a husband's affections, whether of body or mind, without the sense and the heart, which alone can preserve them, is about as wise as to try to form a garland of flowers only, without stalks.

From some cause or other the associations of women are always singularly mixed up with dry goods. Miss J. who said Mrs. Harris, appearing in black silk at her husband's funeral, exhibited good taste perhaps, although I can't help saying that bonnet would have shown a deeper sense of her affliction.

"Ma' said a little girl to her mother,
"I don't want to get married as much as the women do!"

"Pshaw! what are you talking about?"
"Why, ma, the women who come here are always talking about getting married; and the men don't do so."

"I do declare, Sal, you look pretty cute to say!"

"Well, Solomon, ain't I cute?" as fast as I can?" replied Sal, with her mouth full.

Ladies with handsome ankles don't mind going out in muddy weather, in fact they like it. Queer, isn't it.

COUNTY AND TOWN ELECTION.—The following is the result of the election held on Monday last, for Sheriff of this county, and Marshal of the town:

FOR SHERIFF.	B. D. Williams.	G. W. Donaghy.
District No. 1.	213	100

FOR TOWN MARSHAL.
Alex. B. Richards, 98
Joseph Jackson, 19
Chas. Kildgrew, 21

Election Mr. Richards by a majority of ten votes over Mr. Jackson, the best highest.

Col. CHRYSTON KODER was elected Justice of the Peace to fill the vacancy in the 4th District.

The August Term of the County Circuit Court commences on Monday next.

Hons. W. T. Ward, J. C. Mason, B. E. Grey, and J. C. Breckinridge will please accept our thanks for Congressional favors.

DAGUERREOTYPES.—See the new advertisement of the "Danville Daguerreotype Saloon." Mr. Baldrige has no superior in taking pictures—though everybody knows this.

Hon. J. C. Crittenden has accepted an invitation from the citizens of Louisville to deliver an oration upon the character and public services of Henry Clay. The 25th of September is the day selected for the delivery of the address.

Well-to-do received several of the last numbers of the Lexington Observer and Reporter. As that is one of our most valuable exchanges, we miss it very much. What is the matter, Friend Wickliffe?

LANCASTER ARGUS. We have received the first number of a new paper bearing the above title, and published by C. FRANK HOPKINS, Esq. The Argus is very neatly printed, and well filled with interesting reading, and as it is published at a low price, we wish Mr. Hopkins abundant patronage. We are confident the people of Garrard understand their interest as well as their duty well enough to give their county paper the right kind of a support.

CHOLERA.—At every place in Kentucky where this dreadful disease has prevailed, it seems to have almost entirely abated. There is still occasionally a fatal case, but whenever there is any tendency to it, it generally readily yields to prompt medical treatment.

In many parts of Missouri, Illinois, and states further North, the cholera seems to be prevailing, but only to a very limited extent.

McMINNVILLE RAILROAD.—The Work in Tennessee.—White, Warren and Overton counties in Tennessee, have each voted subscriptions to the great South-western Railroad. The majority for the subscription in Overton county was 752. The people of Tennessee are wide awake, and everywhere on the line of the road "the work goes bravely on."

A "STRAW"—A vote was taken on the 24th ult., on the steamer Isabel, from Weston to St. Louis, and resulted—Scott 144, Pierce 19.

THE POSTAGE LAW.—A bill has been introduced in Congress, amending the postage law. It makes the postage on letters, if prepaid, 2 cents; newspapers 500 miles 4 cent, and over 1000 miles 1 cent. Newspapers to circulate free within 50 miles of the office of publication. The bill also proposes to abolish the franking privilege.

ELECTION ITEMS.

The elections throughout Kentucky on Monday last being mostly of an entirely local character, the returns are of but little general interest.

In the first Appellate District, an election for Judge was held to supply the vacancy in the Court of Appeals created by the expiration of Judge Simpson's term. It is believed from the scattering returns received, that Judge Simpson is re-elected, though his opponent, Kenaz Harrow, by electioneering, stump-speaking, and party organization (while Judge S. was attending his Court), has doubtless received enough votes to make it a close race. Clarke county, however, gave Judge S. a majority of between 800 and 900 votes, and Bourbon gave him almost a unanimous vote.

Alvin Davall, Esq., of Scott, has been elected Circuit Judge in the district embracing Franklin, &c.

Ripcord Harris is elected Sheriff of Mercer county, and Capt. Samuel Davidson Presiding Judge, both, we understand, by considerable majorities.

Jas. Crow is elected Sheriff of Lincoln county, by a large majority.

Walter Rodes is re-elected Sheriff of Fayette county, over C. W. Castleman, by a majority of more than 1000 votes.

In the contest between John G. Hall and E. B. Cravens, the foremost candidates for Marshal of the city of Lexington, the result is a tie.

A. L. Offutt is re-elected Sheriff of Scott county, by a majority of 112 votes over Thos. K. Holland, the regular Democratic nominee.

Newton Dickerson is elected Sheriff of Cassiopolis, by a majority of 6 votes over Capt. C. T. Worley, his highest competitor.

Mr. Hernion is elected Sheriff of Franklin county, and W. L. Harlan County Attorney.

Charles Quincy is elected Sheriff of Jefferson county. There were two Whig candidates, and Mr. Quincy being a Democrat, his party united upon him, the Whigs, as is often the case, being galled and of course defeated.

SOUTHWESTERN RAILROAD.—The Sparta (Tenn.) Times says "White and Overton counties are taking private subscriptions in Stock to the South-Western Railroad to an extent that is highly encouraging to the friends of the enterprise." We hope to be enabled to announce in our next the complete organization of the Board of Directors to operate on that part of the Road leading from McMinnville to the Kentucky line. Our citizens, we are sure, are aware of the very great importance of immediate action, and will advance the work as speedily as possible."

CALLED IN.—John Wentworth, of the Chicago Democrat, has at last concluded to publish the Democratic platform, but crowds it in on the left page of his paper, among the advertisements. The Chicago Journal thinks this a case similar to that of the good old lady, who, from a change of circumstances, was compelled to resort to looking for a livelihood, and standing on the corners of the streets of London, crying for sale, exclaiming—"Muffins and crumpets! Muffins and crumpets!—I hope to be graciously heard!"

EMIGRANTS ON "THE PLAINS"—On the 22d of May there passed New Port Kentucky 8174 men, 1286 women, 1786 children, 5533 horses, 2315 mules, 26,707 head of cattle, 3644 wagons, 2501 sheep, and 1 hog.

SHOOTING IN LANCASTER.—The Lancaster Argus of Friday last, says: "Our town was thrown into the greatest excitement this evening, just as we were going to press, by a rencontre between Samuel F. McKee and Joseph Murphy. Four shots were fired, as near as we can learn, killing a negro woman belonging to Mr. Joseph Hopper, and wounding both of the contending parties, though not mortally. A writ has been issued for Murphy, whose shot it is supposed killed the woman."

THE TALE OF "GRANITE HERO."—As applied to Gen. Pierce, it is remarkably appropriate. The General must be composed of Granite or some similar material, or he would, knowing his unfitness, not have sufficiently "hard cheek" to run for the Presidency.

SOME OF GEN. PIERCE'S FRIENDS have dubbed him with the title of the "Granite Hero." Well, if he has been a hero in the Granite Hills of New Hampshire, it is the only place where he ever has been one.

STILL THEY COME, LET 'EM RUN!—The Cleveland (Ohio) Herald informs us that in the town of Lysander, Onondaga county, Ohio, a Scott Club has been formed by twenty-five men who heretofore voted the Democratic ticket.

MR. CLAY AND GEN. SCOTT.—Major Ward, the Whig nominee for Governor of Florida, mentioned in the recent Whig Convention of that State that while he was at the North, during the sitting of the National Convention, he waited on Henry Clay, then gradually sinking upon his death bed, and that the great Whig leader gave, among his last expressions, his testimony to the integrity, patriotism and virtue of Winfield Scott.

THE FISHERY WAR still continues. The American fishing vessels are still excluded from the fishing places under the jurisdiction of the English Government, and memorials numerous signed have been presented to the President praying that a naval force be sent to protect the interest of American citizens. Great excitement prevails, though we suppose a serious rupture with England is not feared. The British Minister has followed Mr. Webster to Marshfield, to negotiate on the subject.

A SUGGESTION.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce proposes that "Vigilance Committees," similar to those in San Francisco, be organized in the city of New York, assigning as a reason that the citizens no longer receive any protection from the constituted authorities.

While the Democratic papers are boasting so loudly of some of the speeches said to have been delivered by Gen. Pierce, (which, by the way, they never publish,) we would suggest the propriety of their publishing the one he delivered at New Boston, in which he declared so emphatically that he "loathed" the Fugitive Slave Law. It is surprising that they never mention that speech.

MR. CLAY'S FAMILY. Mrs. Clay is now 71 years of age, and although her health is feeble, she has the appearance of a lady of 50. She has 11 children, only four of whom live. The body of H. Clay, Jr., killed at Buena Vista, was interred in the family vault at Lexington. Eliza Clay died aged 70 in 1844, on her way to Washington. A married daughter at New Orleans died also at the same time. Theodore Wythe Clay, the oldest son and aged, is insane, and his recovery is hopeless. He has a general melancholy and is occasionally violent. Thos. Hart Clay, aged 42, is the proprietor of Mansfield, a fine estate near Lexington, and cultivates hemp. Jas. B. Clay, aged 30, owns a large estate near St. Louis, Mo., where he has a large dairy, and is engaged extensively in rearing stock. John Clay the youngest, aged 28, he manages the farm, and devotes a portion of his time to the profession of the law. He resembles his father more than any of the other sons. His features are similar, his hair has the same dry, sandy appearance, and hangs about his features in the same careless manner.

"INDEPENDENT," the well-informed Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American, after taking a full survey of the whole ground, makes the following guess as to the result of the Presidential election:

For Gen. Scott—Vermont 3; Massachusetts 13; Rhode Island 4; Connecticut 6; New York 35; New Jersey 7; Pennsylvania 27; Delaware 5; Maryland 2; North Carolina 10; Kentucky 12; Ohio 23—133.

For Gen. Pierce—New Hampshire 5; Virginia 15; South Carolina 6; Georgia 10; Alabama 10; Mississippi 7; Texas 4; Illinois 15; Missouri 2; Arkansas 4—82.

Doubtful—Tennessee 12; Maine 3; Florida 3; Louisiana 6; Indiana 13; Michigan 4; Wisconsin 5; Iowa 4; California 4—81.

The above calculation is certainly a very safe one, and elects Gen. Scott easily; but we are fully satisfied that several of the States set down as doubtful are certain to vote the Whig ticket. Tennessee, Louisiana, and Indiana, we think are certain for the old hero.

THE BOSTON POST calls Gen. Pierce the "Democratic war-horse."

He has one attribute (says the Syracuse Journal) of the scriptural war-horse at all events:

"He smelleth the battle afar off."

F. F. the Democrats say, stands for Frank Pierce and Fourteenth President, and therefore puffers well.

The Syracuse Journal says in reply that W. S. stands for Winfield Scott and Washington's Successor, and therefore augurs better.

COUNTY CHARGE.—Mr. Shannon, the President of the Missouri University, whom the Hon. Thomas Benton, denounced as a "lying scoundrel," publishes a card in the St. Louis papers, in which he promises to disprove, in a short time, the charges alleged by Col. Benton, and also to fix on the belligerent Colonel the undeniable title of "WILFUL LIAR."

RUFUS PORTER, who is building a flying ship at Washington, in his semi-monthly report to the stockholders, says: "The fibrous material for the boat and saloons has been all varnished, and the sewing and making up the boat age now in progress, and we may have it ready for inflation in two weeks. The frame work of the saloon, and the longitudinal rods for the boat, are ready to be set up. The engine and boilers are only waiting for the furnace."

KOSSUTH.—The New York Herald, speaking of Kossuth, says, "We are in possession of some very curious documents, giving an insight into the secret movements of Kossuth before he left this country for England, his plan of operations there, and his schemes on his return to this country in the fall. These papers present him in the light of a well-nob politician of a very small calibre, and are highly interesting and amusing."

THE LOCOMOTIVES seem determined to create a liberal character for their candidate. They first published an account of his liberal donation to a blubbery urchin, and we now see in the Democratic papers, that some "gentlemen" remembers "with pride and satisfaction" that Pierce emptied his pockets into a Sunday School collection on a certain occasion in his native town. A record of that collection has been produced, and the amount emptied out of Pierce's pockets is ascertained to have been exactly twenty-five cents!

THE GEORGIA CITIZEN, an influential Democratic paper, has come out for Scott. It does so, it says, on the score of personal service, ability, honesty, principle, and "soundness on the great question in which the South is deeply interested." On all these grounds, it remarks that Scott deserves its support and shall have "that same."

Fred. Douglass, the free negro editor of a paper published in New York, in his last paper says that he looks upon the nomination of Gen. Pierce as an encouraging sign of the times.

THE NEW YORK CRYSTAL PALACE.—The managers of the New York Crystal Palace are going forward with their scheme in earnest. They have already secured subscriptions to the amount of $200,000, ten per cent. of which has been paid in. The plans of the edifice are now in the hands of the architects. The site is a space of 400 feet square of the Reservoir square, which will admit of an immense building, though by no means equaling the crystal monster of the Hyde Park. The managers desire to include in the exhibition specimens of our various ores, minerals, agricultural products, fabrics, wares, &c., as well as of the more delicate creations of art. It will, says the Tribune, contemplate unity first, beauty afterward; holding in higher esteem a practicable steam plow than the daintiest piano.

CONVICTED.—Another of the Clarkers—the murderers of Brewer and wife, in Greenup county—was tried and convicted at the late term of the Greenup Circuit Court. He is to be hung this month.

THE HALIFAX AMERICAN says there is no doubt whatever that gold, real, veritable gold, has been discovered in large quantities in Nova Scotia, and great purity.

A railroad convention, composed of delegates from Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Tennessee and Mississippi, was in session at Little Rock on the 5th inst.—The most of the delegates were from Arkansas. The most material point determined upon was the prosecution of the railroad from Memphis to Little Rock, and thence to Fulton, Texas.

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE.—Burning of the Steamer Henry Clay. The steamer Henry Clay left Albany, N. Y., on Wednesday morning of last week, with 300 passengers on board, and a few minutes afterwards the steamboat America left the same place. A continued race was kept up between the two boats, until the Henry Clay passed Yonkers (she being then four miles in advance of the America) when it was discovered that the wood work near the boilers was on fire. The boat was immediately headed for the shore, before reaching which, the flames had spread so as to almost prevent connection between the fore and aft parts, and many passengers had jumped overboard. The scene is said to be altogether indescribable, so sickening and heart-rending was it. At last accounts 73 bodies had been found, and many others are yet missing.

GOLD DISCOVERY IN MISSISSIPPI.—The editor of the Claiborne (La.) Advocate has been favored with the perusal of a private letter from Covington county, Miss., which states that considerable excitement prevails there in consequence of the reported discovery of rich deposits of gold. The letter says it is reported there that "Mr. James Johnson, living on Black creek, in Marion county, has found a gold mine where he can get it by the cart load, but he conceals a knowledge of its locality. He is closely watched by numbers of people, but as yet no clue has been to guide them to the bed of treasure." It is stated further that a company had left Covington county with the intention of camping out and searching on Black creek for gold.

GEN. SCOTT'S QUALITIES OF HEART.—We make the following extract from a letter published in the last issue of the Erie Chronicle.

"In March 1846, the writer had occasion to call upon Gen. Scott, who was then lying sick at Brown's Hotel, Washington. There were many navy and army officers waiting in the hall below to be admitted. Not one had that morning been admitted, as his doctor was with him. I sent word by a waiter that an old soldier desired to speak with him; word was instantly brought back to admit me, and I was admitted into the presence of the victorious General, who had but recently refused with scorn an empire of his brother officers and campers still in waiting, the 'poor old soldier' admitted, taken friendly and kindly. Oh how kindly, nay, affectionately by the hand. That was the proudest moment of a long and varied life. I was by him desired to sit down by his bed side, where he still lay suffering from the effects of his glorious campaign. For half an hour he talked to me, though very feebly, of my little affairs, with the gentleness of a father, and such in truth he was, as many now living can truthfully vouch for, to all ever under his command. If this is pride, then pride is surely a virtue. Thus and many more such traits of this venerated hero I am ready and willing to prove.

AN OLD SOLDIER OF '32."

BRIDGE GATHERING AT NIAGARA.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Atlas, who was present at the great Whig celebration at Lundy's Lane, writes as follows:

The grove was densely packed, and thousands upon thousands could not get within hearing distance of the speakers. Tremendous shouting occasionally rent the air, which, with the majestic torrent, was emblematic of the tremendous power with which the hero and conqueror of many battles will sweep the country in November next. It cannot be ascertained to any certainty, the number of persons assembled at Niagara. Not less than 150,000, we think, and some go as far as to estimate it at 200,000. During Monday and Tuesday the American and Canada shores were literally lined from far below the Suspension Bridge to some distance above the Falls. Over the bridge to Goat Island, a continual stream of people were passing to and fro. The island was thronged, and we learned from the gatekeeper that more persons had passed over it within four days than in any one season previous.

PRESIDENT ELLMORE AND GENERAL SCOTT.—The following extract from a letter of President Ellmore, to a gentleman in Philadelphia, dated the 19th inst., was written in reply to one the President had received from a warm personal friend and zealous supporter, on the subject of the late Whig nomination at Baltimore. It breathes the right spirit, and is quite honorable to the writer and the illustrious nominee. This letter was obviously not intended for publication, and would most probably never have seen the light but for the calumnious rumors lately circulated, by the enemies of both, that the President was desirous of defeating General Scott's election; a rumor contradicted by the whole tenor of the President's life.

North American.

[EXTRACT.]
WASHINGTON, July 19, 1852.

I was not disappointed, nor had I any thing to regret, in the result of the Baltimore Convention. The approbation which that Convention expressed of the policy which I had pursued, in the resolutions which it adopted, was more gratifying to me than to have received the nomination.

I cannot doubt that Gen. Scott intends to carry out the principles of the Whig party in good faith, if elected, and it seems to me that he is justly entitled to the support of every true Whig. I am, therefore, gratified to learn from your letter that you intend to give him a cordial support.

THE WHIGS AT NIAGARA.
NIAGARA FALLS, July 23.

It is estimated by good judges that 60,000 persons are here to-day, and that 100,000 have already been on the ground. The cars and boats are constantly crowded.

The cars to night were full inside, on the platforms and on the top, and besides that, dirt cars were put on to carry passengers. The boats are also densely loaded.

The is a full tent of Democrats from Cleveland, who have renounced their party affinities, and will go strong for Scott.

The railroads running hence sold 25,000 tickets to-day.

Several relics of the old battle have been found on the field, such as bullets and grape shot.

Among the warmest supporters of Gen. Scott is, Capt. Thompson, a brave old soldier who was wounded and left for dead on the field at the battle of Lundy's Lane. He was also commander of a company in the Mexican war.

At last night's meeting the mass was nearly equal to that of the afternoon.

Ex-Gov. Jones of Tenn., Hon. John A. King, of New York, Gen. Hunt, G. A. Noble of Chattanooga, Gen. Clark, of Burlington, Vt., Gen. B. B. Bruce, of Madison Co., addressed the audience effectively. The meeting continued until 12 o'clock, when it reluctantly adjourned.

The crowd of yesterday is swelled in numbers by thousands, the military display having drawn immense numbers of persons from all the surrounding country, while the arrivals from the South and West have been increasing in number since last evening.

At 10 o'clock A. M. the military were reviewed by Gov. Hunt in the presence of a great concourse of spectators, whose number it is impossible to calculate. Some idea may be formed from the fact that to-day there are least 35,000 strangers in the camp, many of them however are spread about visiting the Falls and other localities of interest.

Gov. Jones has consented to address the meeting again.

The enthusiasm is increasing and a most excellent spirit is manifested. No word or sign of discord is apparent, and all appear bent on promoting the object of the great gathering.
